FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CapitalValue Advisors Represents ITEC In Acquisition by Fahrenheit IT

DENVER (2015) – CapitalValue Advisors (“CVA”) is pleased to announce the acquisition of Information Technology Engineering Corporation (“ITEC”) by Fahrenheit IT Staffing and Consulting (“Fahrenheit”), a wholly owned subsidiary of Global Employment Solutions (“GES”). CVA served as the exclusive financial advisor to ITEC. “Closing a deal is always a bitter sweet moment, and that was never more true than in this case. Helping John and Randy drive value to get to the point where it made sense to transact has been one of the greatest pleasures of my career. The journey was well worth it as we found an exceptionally good fit for ITEC and its employees while maximizing value for its shareholders. We will miss our daily interactions with both Randy and John and are grateful they allowed CVA to be a part of the rich ITEC history,” said David Tolson, Managing Director at CVA.

ITEC provides cost-effective, individually tailored staffing solutions for customers across the country. Through locating and hiring the highest-caliber talent available, ITEC has developed a first-class reputation in the industry. Since its inception in 1999, the company has seen strong and continuous growth due to its relentless commitment to its customers and employees. ITEC’s employees possess technical understanding that is unparalleled in the industry and, as a result, are able to provide the most capable engineering staffing services to their customers.

The company has provided staffing services to a variety of industry leaders and is a proud member of the National Association of Government Contractors. Customers of the company include Raytheon Company, Northrup Grumman, Lockheed Martin, Boeing, and Oracle. ITEC’s management team looks forward to continuing its dedication to customer service in conjunction with the strong market reputation of Fahrenheit and GES.

“This deal was many years in the making, as I began working with David Tolson about 10 years ago when CVA and ITEC were in their early stages and still emerging as industry leaders. I watched David become an expert at coaching business owners to add value. My main goal in the transaction was to preserve the ITEC culture and minimize the impact of the transition on our employees and customers. David and his team brought me a deal that did that and much more. Coming down the stretch towards closing day, the CVA team fought hard in the trenches every day to get a great deal done, while making it as easy on me as possible. Chris and David work very well together and have built an incredible team at CVA. I have friends for life with their group, and I feel fortunate they chose to work with me. With the new strategic leadership and additional working capital provided by Fahrenheit, Randy and the rest of the ITEC team will continue to take the company to new heights,” said John Allen, Founder and CEO of ITEC.

Randy Dingle will continue his role as President of ITEC and work in conjunction with Fahrenheit and GES to navigate the companies’ growth strategies. “It was critically important for us to find a partner that embraced ITEC’s culture and values, and we have found that company in GES and Fahrenheit. I am excited to be joining the family and look forward to working with Wayne Cavanaugh and Howard Brill,” said ITEC President, Randy Dingle.

The transaction was closed on May 26, 2015.
